

JAMES C. WALLACE ELECTED CONSTABLE AT PRIMARIES

Official Election Returns Produce Startling Developments; Sheehan Lacked 173 Votes of Being Re-Elected Sheriff.

Following a careful computation of the ballots cast, the County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday officially adopted and announced the result of the recent primary election.

Several interesting developments followed the official canvass of the vote, notable among them being:

Constable James C. Wallace was elected Constable of the First Township and need not enter the finals. This leaves only James Callan and Landini (incumbent) as the choice of the voters in November.

Justice Porter E. Lamb (Second Township) was officially announced returned to office by the primary vote.

Sheriff Michael Sheehan was short only 173 votes of being elected, notwithstanding that he had three opponents.

Recorder Barg lacked only 338 votes of a majority over Robert E. Letts and Clark Rice. The latter qualified for the November finals.

Franklin K. Swart won by a majority of 1128.

Ambrose McSweeney, incumbent Tax Collector, who had no opposition, received more votes than any candidate in the county, his total being 7589.

The primary law stipulates that a candidate is elected if he receives a majority of all the ballots cast in his district. Constable James E. Wallace of South San Francisco received more than a majority of the total number of ballots, and is, therefore, entitled to re-election.

Judge Johnson of Daly City led the First Township in the race for Justice of the Peace, with William J. Smith only 165 votes behind him. J. J. Dowd, the South San Francisco Recorder, cast the next highest vote, 216 less than Smith, although the former carried South San Francisco.

Following is the official vote of San Mateo county for all offices:

HENRY HYLAND AND HELEN MURRAY WED

CEREMONY QUIETLY SOLEMNIZED AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH, SAN FRANCISCO, SATURDAY EVENING.

An unexpected romance developed in the elopement of Henry Hyland and Helen Murray, who were united in wedlock at St. Patrick's Church, Fourth and Mission streets, San Francisco, last Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The young couple had announced their engagement at the Red Cross dance on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hyland, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, stood up for the young couple.

Due to young Hyland being called in the draft, the ceremony was solemnized prior to the expectations of the families of the newly married couple and their friends, and news of it came as a complete surprise. The bride, who is 20, is attending the State Normal School at San Francisco. The groom entrained last Tuesday for Camp Kearny. He is 22 years of age.

ROSS GIVES DETAILS OF NEW FOOD RULES

VICTORY MIXED FLOUR TO BE PUT ON MARKET; SUGAR RULES REMAIN UNCHANGED.

Full details for the new wheat-saving plan, to take effect September 1, have just been announced by Lee T. Ross, Food Administrator of San Mateo county.

A "Victory mixed flour" is now being put out by the mills, and will shortly be placed upon the market. These "Victory mixed flours" may be sold without substitutes.

The new regulations supersede the fifty-fifty rule. The retail dealer selling standard wheat flour is required to carry in stock either barley flour, corn meal or corn flour, and with every sale of wheat flour must sell a combination of some one or more of these in proportion of one pound substitute to each four pounds of wheat flour. Whole rice and breakfast foods are no longer substitutes.

In the matter of sugar, the rules remain unchanged, each person being allowed but two pounds of sugar per month. Permits for sugar for canning purposes can still be obtained from the women directors, and Mr. Ross wishes to call attention to the fact that he does not issue these permits, but South San Francisco applications for a certificate must be made to Mrs. F. S. Dolley.

THOMAS E. HICKEY IS SECOND LIEUTENANT

A telegram from Thomas E. Hickey, son of Supervisor and Mrs. Thomas L. Hickey, advises his parents that he has won his commission as second lieutenant in the United States army.

Young Hickey has been attending the Officers' Training School at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., for several months. The recently appointed lieutenant, previous to his enlistment enrollment in the army, was a star athlete at the University of Santa Clara.

Hickey was appointed captain of one of the early draft contingents which left the county, and shortly after his arrival at Camp Lewis was made a sergeant. Following this he entered the Officers' Training Camp, and came through the examination with flying colors.

WHERE TO REGISTER

The City Hall of South San Francisco has been selected as the official registration place for those who come within the draft in this city under the new man power act. Every male resident, citizen or alien, between the ages of 18 and 45, who is not already registered in the former draft, must register on Thursday, September 12. There are no exceptions, and there will be no extension of time. The penalty for failure to register is one year in prison.

DAVID RADEBAUGH BURNED BY EXPLOSION

ELECTRICIAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM BLINDNESS WHEN BATTERY EXPLODES.

David Radebaugh, electrician at the South City Garage, had both eyes badly burned by sulphuric acid when a battery exploded at noon Thursday. Radebaugh was taken to the South San Francisco Hospital. Hopes are held out that by careful treatment Radebaugh's sight will be saved.

TO RAISE FUNDS FOR ITALIAN ORPHANS

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION WILL DONATE PROCEEDS OF WELFARE SHOP TO WORTHY CAUSE.

The Social Service Commission of San Mateo county has established a Welfare Shop on Second avenue in San Mateo where bits of bric-a-brac, used clothing and home furnishings of every description are sold for charity.

September is the month dedicated to the Italian orphans, and an appeal is sent forth that all may share in the needed charity. Either by the gift of money, used clothing to be sold, or by purchasing at the shop, where many attractive articles are to be found, may assistance be rendered to the good cause.

It takes $100 a year to provide a home and to educate one of the orphans, and this means that we of San Mateo, who realize how much our allies have accomplished in the war, must raise sufficient funds to adopt a number of these unfortunate children. The money raised will be sent direct to Mr. Delano of the Italian-American Relief in New York.

PAY UP, PLEASE

The attention of our subscribers is directed to a recent ruling of the United States War Industries Board, from which we quote:

"No publisher may continue subscriptions after three months of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for."

The ruling is an arbitrary one and the Government will require its strict enforcement, in order to conserve the paper stock at present on hand and to prevent a threatened famine in news print and other paper.

Those of our subscribers whose subscriptions are past due are asked to call at the office and make settlement, in order to obviate the necessity of mailing bills. This is in further line with the policy of the War Industries Board.

ALIEN NEGLECTS TO REGISTER; ARRESTED

ALBERT KLINGDEIL, BARTENDER AT GRAND HOTEL, IS DISMISSED AFTER EXAMINATION.

Albert Klingdeil, a bartender employed at the Grand Hotel, was taken in charge Thursday morning by United States Secret Service operatives, who had received information that Klingdeil was a German alien who had failed to register under the alien act when he came to South San Francisco.

Following an examination at the Hall of Justice in San Francisco, during which Klingdeil produced an honorable discharge from the United States army, he was permitted to return to work.

Klingdeil has been working at the Grand Hotel for a week. He was formerly in the employ of Lind's market.

HONEST CONDUCTOR SEEKS OWNER OF $20

TAKEN BY MISTAKE FOR ONE DOLLAR, CARMAN WILL RETURN ON EVIDENCE OF OWNERSHIP.

If Diogenes had come to South San Francisco, with his lantern and desire to find an honest man, his search would have ended forthwith, for comes now before the public a conductor on the South San Francisco cars who is trying to find the owner of a $20 gold piece which was given him in mistake for a dollar.

Tom Barnett is the conductor, and he is willing to surrender the twenty if the rightful owner can prove on what day and hour it was given.

PIETRO PIERINI MISSING IN ACTION

Pietro Pierini, a South San Franciscan who was called in the first draft, is reported "missing in action" on the western front.

Pierini, who is 24 years of age, was called to training in Camp Kearny, from where he left for overseas in July.

He is a cousin of Gilioli Piccioni of this city, who received the advice of his being missing. No report of whether he was killed or taken prisoner has since been received.

Pierini's brother, who was serving with the Italian army, was taken prisoner by the Austrians this year.

STEEL WORKER'S CLUB TO ENTERTAIN LADIES

The committee on entertainment of the Steel Workers' Club has planned some unique and attractive features for the entertainment of the ladies and members who will assemble at the club rooms on Friday evening.

It is the purpose of the committee to popularize ladies' night at the club rooms, making each Friday evening a regular social event in the activities of the club.

Music has been secured for this Friday evening and the lady guests will be initiated into some of the intricacies of pool and billiards, especially as regards the pairing off of partners. Printed announcements of the entertainment have been sent the members and a large attendance is expected.

Be as prompt as you are patriotic. Register early September 12.

SAN BRUNO NOTES

W. C. T. U. ORGANIZE.

Rev. E. E. Malone, pastor of the M. E. Church, was in attendance at a convention at Stockton over Sunday. The pulpit was filled in the morning by Mr. Howells of San Francisco. In the evening Miss S. K. Emerick, late of West Virginia, delivered her lecture on "How Prohibition Will Win the War." An organization of the W. C. T. U. was effected, with twenty-two members. Mrs. T. W. Parrish was appointed chairman of the soldiers and sailors' branch and Miss C. E. Forster, superintendent of the L. T. L.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen met last Tuesday evening at Green's Hall and held their annual election of officers.

The following officers were elected: Foreman, Harry Grady; master of ceremonies, Mrs. Nerney; master of accounts, Mrs. Peyton; chaplain, Peter Bolliger; correspondent, Mrs. Alice Laumeister. The other six officers are to be appointed by the foreman some time during the month of September and an installation of officers will be held October 1.

Mrs. Will Barnes and son, Fred, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Holliday of Fourth Addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fallet and family spent the latter part of the week with Mr. Fallet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laumeister.

Mr. and Mrs. Warnboldt and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William J. Flynn of Fourth Addition.

William Haley and eleven of the Boy Scouts spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday on a hike through Muir Woods and to the top of Mount Tamalpais.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will hold their annual election of officers Friday, September 13, in the church parlors. All members are urged to be present.

On Sunday, September 15, the M. E. Church will observe flag day at 11 a. m. Everybody is cordially invited to be present and take part in the dedication of our service flag. An interesting program will be rendered by the various organizations of the M. E. Church and Sunday school.

During the recent primaries the poorbox of voting precinct No. 3 received $16.50, which was donated to the Red Cross.

Miss M. E. Holmes of Third Addition is reported seriously ill and under the care of Dr. Smith. A slight improvement in her case is reported.

AMERICAN YEOMEN DEGREE TEAM ATTEND MEETING HERE

Bay City Homestead No. 5527 of American Yeomen met Wednesday evening in Fraternal Hall, with Mrs. Ebersol, district deputy manager, officiating. State Manager, Mr. El-Mott was also present.

The degree team of Robin Hood Homestead of San Francisco attended for the express purpose of giving the degree work to twelve young lady candidates. A most enjoyable presentation of the work was made for us.

To members that could not be present the lodge extends regrets. Last but not least, a most excellent luncheon was served by the ladies.

THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN.

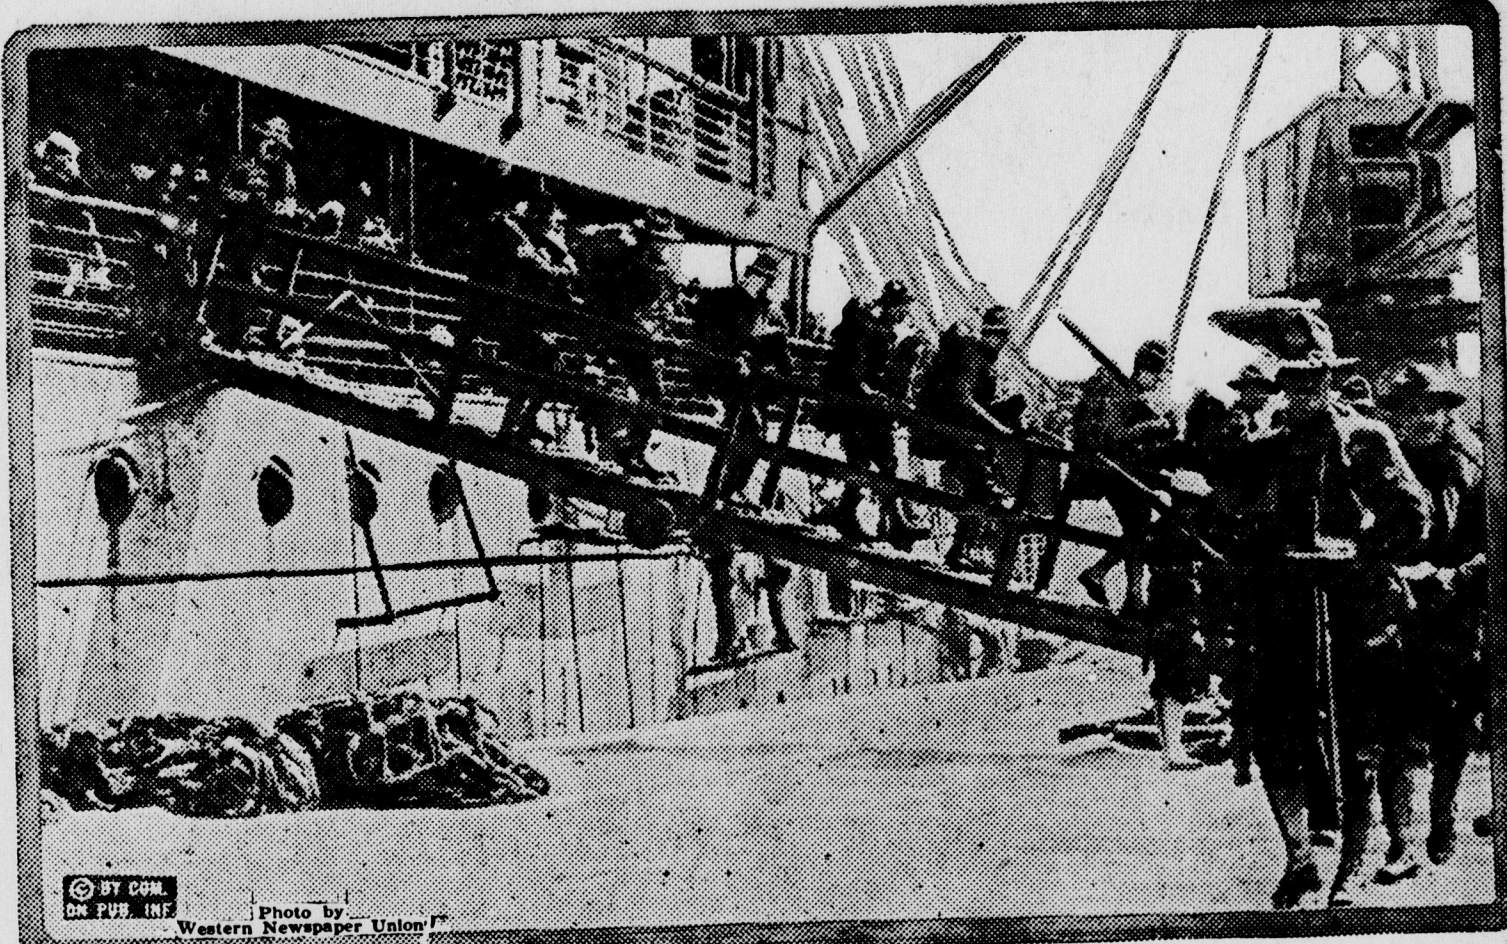

The campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan begins September 28 and closes October 19. While the amount has not yet been announced, it is generally conceded it will be for a larger amount than any of the preceding loans. The American people, therefore, are called upon to raise a larger sum of money in a shorter length of time than ever before. There is need, therefore, for prompt action—prompt and efficient work and prompt and liberal subscriptions.

We have a great inspiration for a great effort. The news from the battle front inspires every American heart, not only with pride and patriotism but with a greater incentive to do his or her part. There is no shirking, no shifting of the individual burden, no selfishness by American soldiers in France; there should be none here. We are both supporting the same country and the same cause—our Army in one way, ourselves in another. Theirs is the harder part, but at least we can do our part as promptly and loyally and efficiently as they do theirs.

Speed the selective service registration and you speed the end of the war.

Do your part. REGISTER.

U. S. BULLETIN KEPT ON FILE
AT ENTERPRISE OFFICE

Owing to the enormous increase of government war work, the governmental departments at Washington are being flooded with letters of inquiry on every conceivable subject concerning the war, and it has been found a physical impossibility for the clerks, though they number an army in themselves now, to give many of these letters proper attention and reply. There is published a daily at Washington, under authority and by direction of the President, a government newspaper—the official United States Bulletin. This newspaper prints every day all the more important rulings, decisions, regulations, proclamations, orders, etc., as they are promulgated by the several departments and the many special committees and agencies now in operation at the national capital. By consulting this Bulletin most questions will be found readily answered; there will be little necessity for letter writing; the unnecessary congestion of the mails will be appreciably relieved; the railroads will be called upon to move fewer correspondence sacks, and the mass of business that is piling up in the government departments will be eased considerably. Hundreds of clerks, now answering correspondence, will be enabled to give their time to essentially important work, and a fundamentally patriotic service will have been performed by the public.

The official United States Bulletin will be on file at the office of The Enterprise.

Truck Gardening In Chicago.

The G. F. Swift estate donated a plot of ground of sixty acres in the Chicago suburbs to be used by the stockyards employees for raising vegetables. Eight hundred amateur truck gardeners have plots on this tract, and the output is proving a great success.

Swift & Co. have offered to store free of charge all vegetables that the amateur agriculturists cannot take care of.

A miniature agricultural exposition will be held in the yards by the Swift Garden club Sept. 15. Numerous awards, including cups and other trophies, have been donated by officials of the company. Huge cabbages, turnips, beets, squashes and tomatoes promise to rival the exhibits of real country fairs.

MODEL TOWN FOR
MUNITION MAKERSErected In England to House
Woolwich Arsenal Hands.

COMFORT AND PERMANENCE

Well Hall, in Kent, England, Contains 1,200 Homes For Workmen Which Were Built Inside of a Few Months and Yet Are Notable For Comfort and Sanitary Conditions.

Well Hall is a village for munition makers who work in the great arsenal of Woolwich. The arsenal was on a peace basis of 10,000 men and with the advent of war suddenly shot up to six or seven times that number. Workers by day and night, men and women, had to be housed near the scene of action, and so Well Hall came into existence, and 1,200 homes were erected in a few months and constitute a typical English village. Following is a description of Well Hall by Gilbert Selles, writing in the New York Tribune:

I have just returned from a trip to Well Hall. Although the roar of guns at testing time comes down from Woolwich, there is no suggestion of the war town in Well Hall. Little children play on the green, boys and girls come trooping out from school as they do in any village of England, or of America for that matter. Except for the fact that the shops are not really in the village, nothing could set this place out for a special mark. It looks like what it is—a place where people are glad to live.

Four types of houses were built at Well Hall. The largest type consists of a sitting room, parlor, spare bedroom or dining room and scullery on the ground floor and three bedrooms and a bathroom on the floor above. The scullery contains the gas range for summer cooking, and the dining room has the coal range. The other types of houses are much the same, except that the bedroom accommodation varies and in some the bathroom is placed in the scullery. The smallest type is a flat for married couples without children.

The workers at Woolwich like Well Hall, although the local authorities said that the thing could not go and that the flats would be a failure. Well Hall is so popular that it has a waiting list, like a fashionable club, and there is intense rivalry among those workers who wish to get in. The prosperity and independence of the workers' wives, who are the best witnesses to the success of the scheme, are tremendously impressive.

An interesting fact, which has its bearings on the change coming over the spirit of the British working man and woman since the war began, is brought out by the refusal of most of the dwellers in the larger houses to take lodgers. In the original plans a room was added on to these houses simply because the planners thought that the workers would be glad to reduce expenses by taking a lodger. But the independence of comparative wealth and the intense feeling of family unity and family pride have kept these rooms vacant or have transformed them into spare bedrooms and second parlors. It is an indication of how workers respond to surroundings which really give them the homey feeling instead of the rented feeling. In fact, the scheme has taken so well that it is being copied throughout the United Kingdom and the plans have gone to Belgium for use there when the enemy has been driven out.

Some of the details of the work may be of interest to show how much was done in the brief time allowed. Over 25,000,000 bricks were used and 10,000 tons of cement. Nearly one hundred thousand yards of drain and sewer pipes were laid and 18,000 scaffold boards were used in the building. For the roads more than 11,000 tons of flint were employed and 6,000 tons of timber was necessary for the inside and outside woodwork. At the busiest time more than 7,000 men were employed on the construction, and the delivery of material required more than nine miles of light railway, five locomotives, seventy-eight carts and twelve tractors. The complete job included not only the building of the houses, but the draining, sewerage, making the roads, setting up street name plates, lighting and all the rest of the complications of a full sized town. The streets were all named after local celebrities, such as General Shrapnel, inventor of the explosive which bears his name.

NADJA BECOMES AMERICAN

Nadja Frolova, sister of Mme. Botchkarova, commander of the Russian battalion of death, has adopted Washington as her home and declares "I American; Russian, no." That is about all the English she has acquired. She is living in a girls' camp on the Potomac near Washington, where the occupants receive military training. She is sixteen years old, too young to have been a member of the "battalion of death," but now she is training to be an American soldier.

Dream Was Valuable.

Warned by a dream a New York dentist increased his fire insurance the other day. The man dreamed that the building in which he had his offices had been burned down, and that his office and apparatus had been destroyed. Early next morning he called his insurance agent and raised his policy from $500 to $1,000. His office was damaged slightly by fire a few nights later.

LITTLE CITY FARMS.

Street Cleaners of Brooklyn Are Getting Good Crops on Vacant Land.

Members of the street cleaning department of Brooklyn are raising corn, potatoes and garden truck on temporarily useless land. More than thirty acres of land, loaned free of charge, are under cultivation, and the harvest is expected to supply 300 families for some time. The men are working twenty-six acres on a co-operative plan in which each of thirty families will receive ten bushels of potatoes and a share in 20 per cent of the remainder. Plots adjoining six stables have been turned into gardens, and land near the homes of more than 200 employees is being worked. Nineteen acres are under potatoes and seven are bearing corn, and the rest of the land is producing garden truck for individual families.

The plan was started by Joseph R. Buchanan, secretary to Commissioner J. T. Fetherston of the street cleaning department, when a national appeal was made to increase the general food supply. Commissioner Fetherston backed the scheme, and it was begun in Brooklyn under the supervision of Superintendent John J. Byrne.

None of the expense has been borne by the members of the department. The mayor's food garden committee provided $600 for seeds and chemicals, and the expenditure is expected to be much less next year because of the care given to the earth.

The men at work are sweepers, drivers and stablemen. Each man contributes half his vacation time, or one week. Park Commissioner Raymond V. Ingersoll of Brooklyn had the land plowed and harrowed, and the water department is giving free use of a pumping station.

The potatoes will be sold only to members of the department at less than $1 a bushel, and the corn will be sold on certain days at stables at one-half the market price on those days.

The workers believe their crop will be a record one, even though they are having a hard tussle with potato bugs and the blight. Money derived from the enterprise will be applied to a fund for resuming the work next year.

Do your part to make every man who should register for selective service realize when and why he must register.

Conscience and honesty demand immediate registration for selective service.

Recruiting vs. Draft

The Government has closed the recruiting stations. Opinions differ as to whether the Government should close the saloons. But there will hardly be any divergence of opinion about recruiting. "Treat us all alike" is the true democratic philosophy. "Don't penalize the loyal enthusiasms of a section of us for the benefit of those who are less patriotic. Don't appeal to our emotions, or stimulate them into sacrifices for the advantage of those whose emotions are less volatile.

But there are other considerations than these. Abolition of the recruiting system is not merely an expedient for protecting the enthusiast, the altruist, the devotee. Under the old system many a man felt a strong impulse to enlist, but controlled it. He felt no fear of Ludendorff, but he was a little afraid of the man next door.

Jones wanted to enlist. He did not feel that his wife was entirely dependent on him. She had some money, and her folks were willing to look after her. So were his, for that matter. He had enough of the ingredients of an exemption claim to put it over, but he didn't think he ought to.

Smith worked with Jones on the same job. He had as good a claim to exemption as Jones, and no better, but he was less quixotic. He meant to use it.

If Jones went to the front for three years Smith would stay on the job, and through the scarcity of hired help would get many promotions. When Jones came back to the job—if it was still open—Smith would be his boss. And Smith's wife would take care that Jones' wife didn't forget it.

So Jones stayed at home—and you can't blame him.

By the new arrangement the Government gets both Jones and Smith. It will probably get all the Smiths and Joneses pretty soon, unless they are under 18 or over 45. Some of us are too short-sighted to shoot, too bow-legged to march, not heavy enough to sit down on a Boche and squash him cold. But Uncle Sam will come for us and ask us a few short questions.

"Did you ever run a lathe?" he will ask. "Ever dig coal? Or use draftsmen's tools, or surveyors'? Are you a diemaker, a molder, a puddler, a chemist, a bookkeeper?"

Don't be bashful, dear friends. We can most of us do something—even editors. And we had better not try to fool our loving uncle.

The best that the Germans can say about their military maneuvers at present is that they have a retreat expert in charge.

Between the desire to satisfy the War Department and the desire not to incommode the public too seriously, Congress is skating on pretty thin ice nowadays.

Senator Lodge says, "Germany must be beaten to her knees." He is right: the attitude of prayer would be a most appropriate one for Germany—prayer not for victory, but for the forgiveness of sins.

Taking into account food conditions in the enemy countries, we have no doubt that "cabbages and kings" are getting better acquainted.

When the war is over Germany is very likely to discover that she has no special use for a War Lord.

"Work or fight." Congress does both over most of the bills offered for its consideration.

Mr. Hoover has come back to this country to tell us how many hundred million bushels of wheat and pounds of beef we must supply for the use of the allies next year. All right, Mr. Hoover, what we have done once we can do again. And it has been an interesting bit of work, too.

It looks as if the world would be made safe for democracy. But autocracy had better be looking for a good safe cave to hide in.

The call "Dinner up, come and get it," meets with fully as enthusiastic a reception as does the announcement "Dinner is served, sir."

It is said that a "river of whisky," whose estimated value was nearly $3,000,000, was burned in Kentucky. In that particular case it appears not to have been a difficult matter to "set the river on fire."

The presidency of the United States has many advantages and some disadvantages. One of the disadvantages is that the President can only take his summer vacation under the protection of a guard of soldiers.

"Good King Arthur" was one of the original conservers, but in these days he would not be put to the necessity of "stealing three pecks of barley meal to make a bag pudding." He would only have to take barley meal as his flour substitute, and in a short time he would have enough accumulated for innumerable bag puddings.

War times are wonderfully developing. Which of us has now the same mental attitude that he had a year and a half ago? And which of us would willingly go back to his former one?

Uncle Sam has built several thousand miles of railroads and miles of docks and wharves in France for the uses of his army. In one city he has established a bakery that turns out a million loaves of bread a day; in another the largest refrigerating plant in the world. There is nothing too good for Uncle Sam's boys.

No one needs to admonish General Foch to "get busy." He is already the busiest man in France.

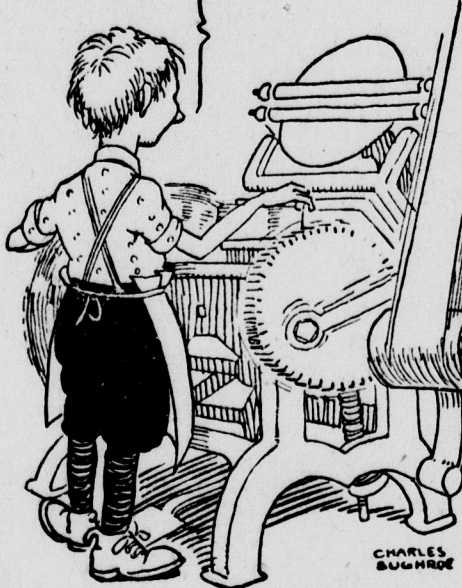

"The Stars and Stripes Forever" will ring forever in the Kaiser's ears.

LITTLE NIECE OF DR. T. C. DOAK DIES AT BURLINGAME

Helen Sophie Doak, the two-year-old daughter of Edward and Sophie Doak, died at Burlingame on September 3. The deceased was a niece of Dr. T. C. Doak of this city.

Funeral services were held on Thursday at the parlors of Stead & Co., Burlingame.

Every word you scatter to speed the message of selective service registration is a step toward the end of the war.

Patriots will register. Others MUST.

One of the spotlights of the war beams upon the figure of the German general galloping frantically down a road with a small tank in full pursuit.

A small motion picture camera for the home is advertised. It is specially recommended for taking pictures of small children. But we do not believe that any motion camera could be made quick enough to keep up with the motions of a small child.

A salient might be defined as a place which it is advisable for the German army to get out of and do it quick.

If the Government desires to take over packing industries, why should it not undertake to operate city street cars during the rush hours?

The Standard Oil Company has just raised the wages of all refinery employees for the sixth time since August, 1915. The company is certainly inclined to oil the wheels of life for its employees.

Over seven million letters from soldiers in France reached the United States between July 29 and August 10. Our boys are some little letter-writers.

Buy a Faber pencil. The Government has just seized the factory at Newark, N. J., which makes them. The business was established there in 1761, and at the time of its seizure by the Government belonged to a Bavarian count.

A "tin Lizzie" is a wonderful little machine, but it failed to run its manufacturer into the Senate?

Our boys have certainly gone through a Vosle of fire.

It is better to dream of world democracy than world domination. One dream may come true, and, please God, the other never shall.

The impression which the Americans in France seem to make upon the allies reminds us of Kipling's description of the American:

"He turns a keen, untroubled face
Home to the instant need of things."

Some patriotic men who have been bewailing the fact that they were too old for military service have discovered that Y. M. C. A. means "You May Come Across."

The war is certainly strengthening our sense of national unity. We realize that of course Uncle Sam's nephews must all be cousins of each other.

Five corps of the American army are now organized in Europe under General Pershing.

A corps consists of six divisions. An American division consists of 27,000 fighting troops, with the addition of 18,000 supply troops.

Take your pencil and work it out.

Chicago.—High art and low a music and literature and dolls the talk and walk are to be taboo forever and forever to members of a new club here, when they bear the "Made Germany" stamp or flavor.

"Use Nothing German" is the name of the club. And the women who formed it swear that they mean what they say, and that after the war they intend that the kaiser does not recuperate from the ills he has brought upon himself through their aid.

The club expects to spread its message countrywide, and thus to influence women throughout the United States to back them up in ignoring everything German.

HYLAND SAFE, SAYS SIEGE WAS A DANDY

LOSES ALL HIS BELONGINGS GOING "OVER THE TOP"; HAS FEAST IN A STABLE WITH FOURCANS.

The following letter has been received here from "Bill" Hyland: Somewhere in France, July 28, 1918, Sunday.

My Dear Mother: Just a few hurried lines from your far-away boy, hoping they find you well and happy. I have received letters from all you since I wrote and will drop you each a line when I can. Well, mother, I feel fine and dandy and happy, 'cause I have been through a siege that was a dandy. I lost everything I had to my name except what I had on me, and some of the things were ones I prized highly and figured to keep right through all this game. I tried to locate them, but to no avail. Anyway, I am thankful that I made the grade myself and I now will surely have a lot of real things to tell you all when I get back. It is great to be through "it" and to get out O. K. After it was over with I got back to camp and received a welcome bunch of letters. Gee! but they made me feel like a new man. Also the first thing I received was that box of candy from Eliz. that has sure traveled some. It went down pretty fine, and I'll say again, such things are certainly luxuries.

I lost the notebook and letters containing the addresses you gave me, and, while I remember them pretty well, maybe you could give me them again. I may never get over there, but then again the chance may come and I would like to see your folks.

I met Frank and he took me in to his company for a feed that sure hit the right spot. I expected to see him that evening again, but we moved. Next day I got a line on Et. and saw him. Say! but it felt good to see the old boy, and he was looking good. It was then about two and a half months since I saw him in N. Y. I went over to his place and we had a dandy chat together. Again he was right there to help me out and gave me a lot of things to replace my lost or destroyed articles or clothes. He gave me this writing paper, envelopes, safety razor, new blouse, trousers and sox. That a. m. I received a letter from the Y. M. C. A. (N. Y.) enclosing pictures taken, and among them was some that he was in. I gave them to him. We had a fine dinner together on a blanket spread on the floor of a stable. We spent a few happy hours together, and he showed me letters from home and I showed him mine. These are the times when "Gee! But It Is Great to Meet a Friend From Your Home Town." Tell his folks how glad I was to meet him. I left him in the afternoon and came back again to take a trip with him to see Frank, but Frank had gone, so we strolled around together. He was to come over the next day, BUT I MOVED. You can't tell here from one hour to the next what will happen.

I am enclosing some pictures taken in the old U. S. and as I have not the negatives for some of them I wish you would save them for me, and maybe have some printed from the photos themselves. They are not extra good looking, but they are reminders anyway. The neg. of Et. you can leave for them to get some of and get me one. It was taken just after he got out of hospital at Camp Lewis. He and I were on a stroll through the woods together. The one of the bunch on the engine was taken at Green River, Wyo. (some town). What do you think of me at the door and on the corner of the tent? The negative is lost, so hang on to the original.

I got the bundle of papers and left them in Fourcans' tent, expecting to get them next day, but YOU KNOW. Everything seems to be going fine at home and around that vicinity. Glad to hear that you all are well.

I can't say a whole lot to you, but this will let you know that I am still "hitting it strong" and making a great go of it all. We will finish this thing soon and then, ho! for good old Cal. and back to all those for whom we care. Gee! but that will be some day, so mother, keep up your good spirits and even if it don't hear often from me, take it that all is well and I am O. K.

So long, mother, with my fondest love to yourself and all the family.

Your boy,

BILL.

Other members of the club who were present were Mesdames Money, Scott, Brown, Holston, Hynding, Taylor, Snyder, Britton, Langenbach and Plymire. The latter is the widow of Dr. H. G. Plymire and is now an Oakland resident.

War Time Sweeteners

AMERICA has several excellent war time sweeteners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply.

They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing desserts and other dishes requiring sweetening.

When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipes should be decreased one-fourth. One-third of a cupful of sugar is equivalent to one-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar. One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One tablespoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of honey, about one and one-half tablespoons of syrup and one and one-third tablespoons of corn sugar.

Sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals.

Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful.

Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup.

If sugar is used one-half of the amount may be replaced by another sweetener.

Drying is a means of preserving (without sugar) apples, cherries, strawberries and black caps.

When ready to use they may have added the needed sugar in the form of a syrup. When sugar is more plentiful fruit juices may be made into jellies or may be used as fruit juices with or without sugar, as beverages, fruit gelatins and frozen desserts.

Fresh fruits supply the place of sugar in the diet. They should be used freely. Desserts where sugar is scarce may be made of gelatins, junkets, custards, puddings and cakes.

CITY MEN FURNISH NOTES ON WESTERN MEAT PICNIC

General Office Claims Report of Tug-of-War Furnished by Beggs Was Camouflaged.

No, Mr. Snyder, the Sixth and Townsend bunch did not have a block and tackle under the floor of the dancing pavilion. It may have seemed so to the plant team, but this effect was only produced by Matt Gallagher and "Big Bill" Hobbs, the "cute little" double anchor of the Sixth and Townsend team.

And the plant bunch practiced three weeks, using the railroad ties for foot cleats. Well, what would have happened that plant team if they had not had this advantage over the wholly unpracticed city team!

It was really a good thing that Mr. Haaker called off the contest after forty-eight minutes—the plant team included some of Mr. Snyder's best workers, and it would have been a mistake to let them unfit themselves for work on Monday, particularly as the plant is a little short-handed anyhow. Bad enough to have had two of them laid up next morning.

The plant team may be short-handed, but their rope team sure is short-winded!

Last year we had a lot of the city office girls with us—this year only four of them joined us. The rest of them said "There are no young men left to dance with." What's the matter with Sam Akins?

Did you notice what a big hole they had to dig for Anchor Gallagher to sit down in? But they underestimated the size of Bill Hobbs, who had to be helped into his seat with a shoe-horn. No wonder the plant couldn't pull up the city's "double anchor."

Undoubtedly the "sea voyages" to and from Paradise Cove were as enjoyable as any part of the picnic. Of course, some of those who "voyaged" will not agree with us on this, especially some nine men who lost their hats on the briny deep and also a few of the ladies on each boat who received some of the briny in generous portions every time the boat dipped into the sea.

John Bowler had the edge, so far as ice cream garments were concerned.

Judiciously speaking, did you notice that all the tug-of-war judges were plant officials? After the rope pulling was over some one on the dancing floor, after noting the fact, exploded, "What do you know about that?"—and one of 'em had a pistol, too.

The packing house tug-of-war team were able to stick it out about forty-five minutes. Some one was unkind enough to remark that they wouldn't have held for ten minutes if J. O. Snyder had not stood over them with a pistol as a persuader.

HIS SCHEME

"You said Nokoyne was a grafter; but he paid me that twenty-five he owed me last night."

"Fine; then you can lend me five."

"Can't. Nokoyne borrowed fifty this morning."

FUTURE OF THE HUMAN FOOT.

Is Man Destined to Lose His Toes in the Course of Time?

That the human race is slowly evolving toward a condition of clubfootedness is suggested by Dr. Truman Abbe of Washington in the Medical Record.

Dr. Abbe points to the horse's hoof and its evolution from the five toed foot of the prehistoric horse by the dropping of one toe after another and the consolidation of the bones from the knee down.

"When we look at the human skeleton and compare the bone of the tibia and fibula and the digits beyond each of them," he continues, "it does not take much imagination to see suggested in the slender fibula and the diminutive little toes an early stage in the reduction process, which if carried further would lead to a diminution of the number of toes on man's foot."

And he closes his article with these words: "We come thus to the suggestion of clubfoot as a tendency toward the dropping of the post-axial digit group of the lower limb. And this dropping of a digit group would seem to be due to restricted development in the central nervous system—a factor that has been at work since before the days of the five toed horse."

GILBERT C. CLOSE

Gilbert C. Close, personal secretary to President Wilson when the latter was president of Princeton university, has been made personal stenographer to the president, succeeding Charles Swem, who resigned to go into the army. Last year Mr. Close came to Washington as one of Secretary Daniels' personal secretaries.

SCRAPS

A submarine torpedo is a metal cylinder loaded with a high explosive and equipped with a detonating apparatus. Sometimes it is equipped with a propelling and steering mechanism, automatically operated.

The origin of the expression, "In union there is strength" is not known, but the sentiment in various forms has been current a very long time. A Latin author of ancient times said: "By union the smallest states thrive, by discord the greatest are destroyed." The American author of "The Flag of Our Union" said: "United we stand; divided we fall."

I see only one discordant note in the proposal to exchange prisoners with Germany. German prisoners in our hands are certain to object.

Can you face that silent question in every eye—"Did you Register?"

On the street, at the theatre, everywhere—that silent question—"Did you Register?"

You will have to live with yourself through the years to come. Register!

Which will you feel when this war is over—pride or shame? Register!

Make your family proud of you—not ashamed of you. Register! Your country calls. There must be no man so careless, so base, as to fail to register.

This is the roll call of America's sons. Let no man fail to respond. Register!

How will you square yourself with your wife—your children—your conscience—if you do not register?

Help to swell the registry list—its length is going to strike terror to the Kaiser's soul. Register!

The man next door says he's glad he has a chance at last to show the Kaiser which side he is on. He's going to register early.

If you don't register for Uncle Sam you are registering for the Kaiser. You can't stay on the fence—it's barbed wire.

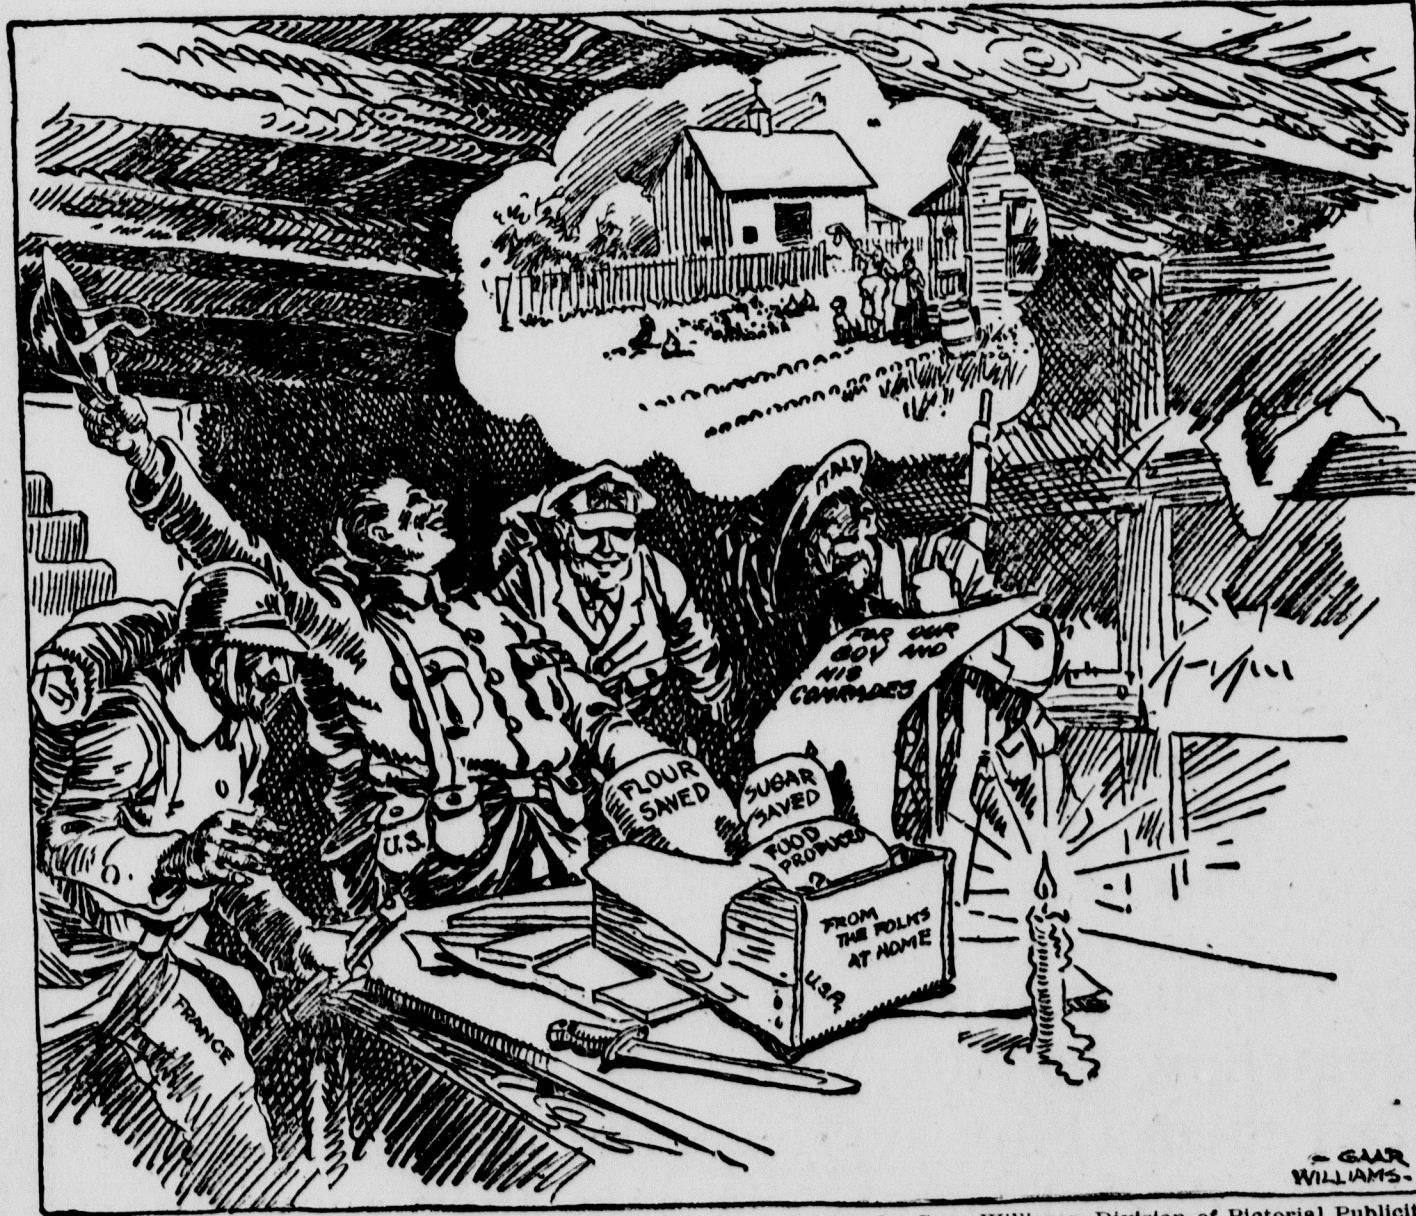

On September 12, every man from 18 to 45 years of age, both inclusive, must register for the Selective Service, unless he has already done so.

13,000,000 men will enroll on that day. From them will be selected the men needed to bring our army up to 5,000,000 effective.

A BOX FROM HOME

Drawn by Gaar Williams, Division of Pictorial Publicity.

Food savings of millions of Americans during our first year of war enabled this government to send enormous food shipments abroad for our fighting forces and the Allied nations. Our savings in cereals—out of a short crop—amounted to 154,900,000 bushels; all of which was shipped to Europe. We increased our meat and fat shipments 844,600,000 pounds. This was America's "box from home" to our army abroad and the civilians and military forces of the Allied nations.
